

REPORT ON WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY CELEBRATIONS

"Our planet's alarm is going off, and it is time to wake up and take action!"

– Leonardo DiCaprio

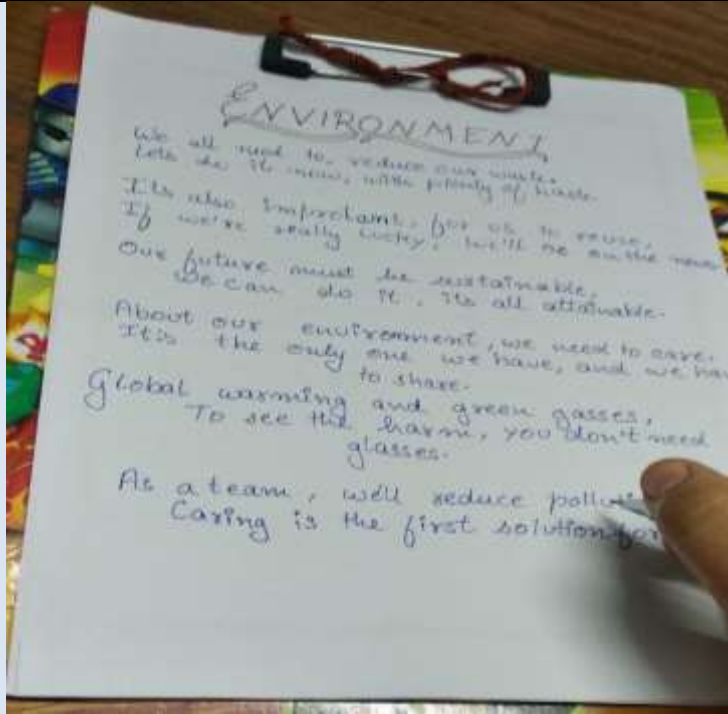

Every year on June 5th, World Environment Day is celebrated to encourage worldwide awareness and action to protect the environment. This year also NCS (K) celebrated this day within the constraints. The virtual platform paved the way to celebrate the day with vigor and enthusiasm.

NCS(K) instilled the theme of "Environment Day" in students' mind through the virtual environment. The theme focuses on "The Time for Future." Apart from getting to know the importance of environmental protection, the students' should come forward to conserve our nature and to nurture the life. Yes, this is their time, they are the future generation and they should give a hand to protect our earth. They need to understand the significance of taking small steps in whichever way that they can protect the environment.

NCS(K) conducted varieties of activities through the virtual platform which exposed the creative skill of students and their vast ideas about environmental protection.

The activities driven up by NCS(K) were;
